BIOGRAPHY

Kemi Sulola is a dynamic singer-songwriter and artist hailing from East London. She embodies the essence of UK R&B/Soul with her mesmerising vocals and authentic songwriting. Immersed in diverse musical influences from Reggae to Motown, Kemi's sound is a fusion of nostalgic vibes with a contemporary flair. Her debut EP "Fallen For You" garnered industry recognition, followed by hit singles like "Nothing Compares" and "Raindrops," earning accolades from independent soul communities worldwide. She received cosigns and support from international artists such as Janet Jackson and Rnb veterans such as Trevor Nelson.

Additionally, Kemi has supported artists such as PJ Morton and Teedra Moses at their live shows. She has performed at prestigious venues such as The Jazz Cafe and KOKO Camden.

With a universal sound Kemi's music resonates globally and her music has been played on radio stations such as J Wave radio, one of the biggest radio stations in Japan. She has also been recognised by tastemakers like DJ Ace and DJ Target and on radio platforms such as BBC and Capital 1xtra.

She has won community awards for her music, hosted her own sold out events, taught and trained both children and adults in music and songwriting, as well as collaborated with many other artists both locally and internationally. These include her work with the Soulfest Collective, working with other independent artists based in Canada, America and other parts of the world.

Through participation in panels, events, and research initiatives, Kemi's voice resonates, amplifying her intentions and mission to be a positive attribute to the industry. Her recent residency at Blues Kitchen further solidifies her presence in the vibrant live music scene and shows her as a performer among her musical endeavours.
